$3.50 PER YEAR

APPORTIONMENT FOR SCHOOLS FROM THE STATE RECEIVED

Semi-annual state apportionment for the schools of San Bernardino County has been received and divided among grammar and high school districts by Miss Ida M. Collins, county superintendent of schools.

Of the entire amount the high schools receive $19,800 and the grammar schools receive $276,654, of which $4,200 is reserved for the county superintendent's office.

Two apportionments are received from the state every year. This one is distributed on a statutory teacher basis, an allowance of $700 being given to a district for every teacher employed on the basis of 35 pupils.

The next state apportionment, which comes in March, will be distributed on the basis of the average daily attendance.

High schools are each given a flat sum of $2,200. County apportionments are distributed twice a year in the same manner as those of the state.

Largest amount is received by the City of San Bernardino, which gets $67,900 in addition to $2,200 received by the San Bernardino High School. Ontario receives the next largest allowance of $30,800.

SHOT IN BACK AND STILL LIVES

Raymond Moreno, Cucamonga, who was shot in the middle of the back on Monday by Florentia Ortiz, after he is alleged to have attacked Ortiz with a rock and a knife, is reported to be improving today, and Dr. A. L. Weber, the attending physician, today declared his belief that the youth would recover.

The gunshot wound proved to be less serious than was at first believed, and, in case no complications develop, it is predicted that the youth

PLANS FOR HOME READY FOR BIDDERS

Plans and specifications of the San Bernardino County Home for Aged Women which will flank the main structure of the General Hospital on the side opposite the new Detention Home, are practically completed and will be ready for bidders at the next meeting of the Board of Supervisors, Howard E. Jones, architect, announced yesterday afternoon.

The new building, which will fill a long-felt want of the county relief bureau, will cost approximately $25,000, it is estimated. It will be of frame and plaster construction, two stories high, and will accommodate a maximum of 23 women.

Plans are drawn so that it may be enlarged later if needed. Building will be of the Italian Villa style of architecture, most pleasing in appearance. The roof will be of red tile, destined to harmonize with the other buildings of the county, of which it will be a unit.

Besides 17 sleeping rooms, there will be a main lobby, living room 15x26 feet, a dining room of like dimensions, and kitchen. Heating will be by independently controlled radiators regulated from each separate room. It is thought that bids will be called for a week from Monday.

REGISTRATION AT 10TH ST. SCHOOL

Beginning Monday, Oct. 2, the annual registration of minors, over three years of age and under 18 years of age, will be held at the Tenth Street School. Parents, guardians or other persons in charge of minors over three years of age and under 18 years of age, must see that such minors are registered. Every school day next week from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., and Monday and Thursday evenings from 7 to 9, the school house will be open to make such registrations.

Registrations for night school classes will be held at the Grammar School Monday evening from 7 to 9. There will be classes in all subjects providing enough register to warrant such classes. Miss McClelland will give a course in Art for the Home, consisting of lampshade making of silk, parchment and glass, fancy pillows, and polychrome work.

The special room cannot be opened until October 9, one week later than the time announced heretofore, as the building which is being provided will not be ready before that time.

MORE LOCOMOTIVES FOR THE SANTA FE

Shortage of locomotives on the Santa Fe lines has caused that company, in face of one of the gravest lack of equipment in years, to place an order for 100 of the most powerful type of locomotives, it was learned today.

Reports received in this city are to the effect that an unprecedented demand is being made on builders for locomotives and car equipment of all kinds. The Union Pacific and Southern Pacific are also participants in the movement toward increased facilities to care for the heaviest passenger and freight traffic in years.

The announced order for 100 locomotives is one of the largest placed in months and marks the decision of the road to bolster up its power on the Coast Lines by adding new equipment.

The Union Pacific also announced that an order was shortly to be placed with a car building company for 50 caboose cars.

Another reported purchase by the Santa Fe is that of a ten-ton hand power crane for the railroad. Whether it is the new crane to be placed in the store yards at San Bernardino is not known, although presumption is such.

The railroads are faced by the most acute shortage of both car and locomotive equipment in many years and are forced to enter the buying field to care for the traffic that would be theirs if cars and power were available to move it.

Other announcements of the purchase of additional equipment by the Santa Fe, especially refrigerator cars, are expected soon.

will be out and around in a few days. Ortiz was released yesterday afternoon under $5,000 bonds, which were furnished by his employer, Leslie Stephens, Cucamonga rancher. Ortiz declares that he fired in self-defense. He says that Moreno came to the Stephens ranch where he was working for the purpose of securing a gun which Ortiz had taken from him the night before, when he and his cousin, Andy Moreno, attempted to "shoot up the town."

19 STUDENTS GET FREE SCHOLARSHIP

According to W. W. Smith, treasurer of the Chaffey College trust fund, 19 Chaffey graduates have been recommended by Principal Merton E. Hill for free scholarships for one semester in the University of Southern California.

The university, through a court decision 15 years ago, was awarded $20,000 worth of holdings of the old Chaffey College of Agriculture, which was affiliated with the college at the time that it was absorbed by U. S. C., on the condition that the university grant the Chaffey district ten free scholarships each year for 20 years.

To Allow 20 This Year It was decided this year to allow 20 scholarships of one semester instead of 19 for the full year. According to the ruling of the court, at the end of the expiration of the 10 years, the district will be allowed as many free scholarships as is justified by the amount of property awarded the university.

As a result of this agreement with the university, together with the founding of the Chaffey Trust Fund by the Chaffey brothers, pupils in Chaffey High School are accorded privileges offered at no other educational institution.

Those Recommended

The Chaffey graduates recommended by Principal Hill for free scholarship at U. S. C. include Mahlon Arnett, Robert Arnett, William Bealey, Robert Bradshaw, Ruth Craig, William Cushing, Harold Cook, Maurice Dickins, Gladys Ensey, Bessie Friend, Clarence Halfpenny, Joyce Kistner, Vera McLaren, Robert Manker, William Manker, Elsie Mills, Clara Lou Nisbet, Frederic Trunkfield and Ruth Voth.

JOHNSON & BROWN LEASE SILCOX BLDG.

A deal was closed this week by which Johnson & Brown lease the building in the Silcox Block on Second Avenue for a period of five years. The store is at present occupied by the Upland Cut Rate Grocery, who have notice to vacate the premises by the first of December.

Johnson & Brown's move is necessitated by the fact that the building they now occupy was purchased recently by Mac the Medicine Man, who is planning extensive alterations.

Where the Upland Cut Rate Grocery will locate has not yet been announced.

HI-Y TO HAVE DINNER AND PROGRAM

The Hi-Y will open the first meeting of the year with a dinner and special program on Monday, October 9th, when all the officers will meet to consider plans for the year, and have a social hour later.

The Junior College Y. M. C. A. Club will also have its opening meeting on the same night, October 9. This will be in the nature of a "Mixer Social," the idea being for everyone to get together and have a friendly gay time. The club will meet in the Chaffey gym.

KRONMEYERS IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Mrs. Louis Kronmeyer, Sr., is still confined to her bed as the result of a smashup early Wednesday morning, when the car in which she was driving with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Dundas, was struck by a heavy motor truck, damaging the machine to a considerable extent.

Mr. Dundas and Mrs. Kronmeyer drove down to Long Beach on Tuesday to bring home Mrs. Dundas and daughter, who had been spending a few days at the beach. They all left on the return trip late Tuesday evening and when they arrived at Puente stopped to unwrap their baggage to get out extra coats, as the night was quite cold.

The car was parked by the curb under a street light, and the tail-light was burning. All of which did not show Domenico Colomancia the machine. He was driving a heavy truck and ran smash into the Dundas car. Mr. Dundas was on the pavement, so they escaped injury, but Mrs. Kronmeyer, in the back seat, got the full force of the impact and is suffering very badly from a wrenched back and nervous shock and bruises.

The truck driver did not deny that he was asleep when the accident occurred and agreed to pay all damages to the Dundas car.

It is said that Germany is about to pay something on account. We rather that this means something on account of pressure.—Manila Bulletin.

ATTEMPT TO BLOW UP SANTA FE'S ROUND HOUSE YESTERDAY

Working in unison, federal and county officers were last night piecing threads of flimsy evidence which substantiated the officers' theory that the sixteen sticks of dynamite found on a Santa Fe engine in the Santa Fe roundhouse at San Bernardino at 3:50 o'clock yesterday morning were placed in the tool box on the locomotive's tender while the train stopped along the railway lines as it entered the yards shortly after 3 o'clock.

The dynamite, with an acid-filled capsule and a split fuse attached, was found on the engine half an hour after it entered the roundhouse by Foreman Robert Place and Supplyman J. G. Fanna, as they inspected the locomotive.

The capsule of acid was removed by officers. It ate through the gelatin container at 5:15 o'clock—the hour, had the explosives not been found, when the roundhouse would have been wrecked and scores of shop employees either killed or maimed for life. Surrounding the capsule were chemicals which would have been inflamed, igniting the fuse, which meant destruction.

Use Blasting Powder

Sheriff W. A. Shay declared last night that the dynamite was of similar strength as that stolen from the California-Portland Cement Company's plant at Victorville a month ago. The dynamite was what is known as "40 per cent." commonly used for blasting.

It is believed that the terrorists who planted the dynamite were interrupted at their work, it having the appearance of being placed carelessly in the tool box. The explosives were wrapped in a Los Angeles newspaper, date Sept. 23, 1922.

The dynamite would have undoubtedly blown the locomotive tender to bits, throwing a shower of steel in the roundhouse.

The engine, No. 1626, entered the roundhouse at 3:20 o'clock, having been used on a Santa Fe freight train in charge of Conductor Fred A. Rimmer, from Barstow to San Bernardino. Engineer Frank Brown and fireman Fred Webb on the locomotive.

Santa Fe Special Agent Fred Johnson said last night no suspicions were cast on any person. It would have been an easy trick to have slipped the dynamite into the tool box without any person having seen the terrorists, the officer said.

Find Capsule

When the roundhouse employees found the dynamite, Special Officers Salisbury and Collins were called. Later federal officers were notified. The fuses were torn from the dynamite and the capsule containing the acid removed. This was placed in a glass of water. At 5:15 o'clock the acid ate its way through the container.

The train crew told officers they did not recall anyone loitering about the engine as it entered the yards, although they would not have been likely to have seen them, the trainmen admitted.

The plot to kill shop workers was declared by officers to have been the most dastardly of any yet attempted by terrorists who are responsible for the bombing outrages, which have shocked the county since the rail strike.

A bomb of less strength but powerful enough to have wrecked a train was found on a tank car as a Santa Fe train entered the yards a month ago. It is the opinion of officers that the dynamite found yesterday morning was planted by the same fends who have made repeated attempts to terrorize railway workers for weeks.

HUNTERS RETURN FROM NORTHERN TRIP

Kirk Vernon and Roy Creighton of Upland, and Herbert McCulloch of Camp Baldy, have returned from a two weeks' hunting trip in the north part of the state. Each mighty hunter shot a buck, which added to the pleasure of the chase.

The party motored to San Francisco, where they stayed a day or so, and then drove on up to Eureka and the Oregon line, passing through some of the blazing forest fire district, and seeing some wonderful scenery.

On the return journey they were ing, Creighton being at the wheel. Creighton being at the wheel, Creighton being at the wheel, Creighton being at the wheel.

"But," as one of the returned hunters remarked, "we had a mighty good trip, and I understand fines go towards keeping up the roads, so we may get the benefit of ours when we go forth next year."

SPECIAL MEETING TONIGHT OF UPLAND MASONS

There will be a special meeting of Upland Lodge No. 419, F. and A. M., in their lodge rooms this evening at 7:45, for the purpose of conferring the third degree of Masonry.

Members will please notice that this is a special meeting, and does not alter the date of the regular meeting and dinner to be given next Monday night at 8:30.

EIGHT LEADERS ARE NOW UNDER ARREST

Eight leaders of the strike of Big Four Brotherhood men at Needles and Barstow during August were placed under arrest Wednesday by Deputy United States marshals at Needles, on federal grand jury indictments.

The following men were arrested: C. E. Holly, engineer and mayor of Needles.

L. E. Woodbeck, switchman and member of the board of directors of the San Bernardino Valley Bank.

C. I. Fox, engineer.

E. H. Reynolds, brakeman.

E. Arkebauer, conductor.

E. F. Fraseur, brakeman.

R. H. Clements, machinist and chairman of the shop craft federation.

John A. Stecklein, machinist and officer of the shop craft federation.

The charges were made in connection with the abandonment of the Santa Fe trains. According to the federal charge the abandonment of the trains was the result of a plan formed by the defendants and others, which resulted in the impeding of the United States mails.

Holly Head of Committee

Holly was chairman of a committee of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers appointed to handle the strike situation. Fox is the Needles local chairman of the engineers.

Some doubt was expressed here last night that Clements and Stecklein were actually under arrest.

A telegram to Sheriff W. A. Shay said that Clements and Stecklein had left Needles by automobile and he was requested to intercept them. This message was timed at 4 p.m. No word reached the sheriff's office last night countermanning the request for a search for them. Press dispatches from Needles, however, said all eight of the defendants had been arrested.

"Big Mike" Clements is known as the boss of the Needles strikers. Stecklein was exonerated of a charge of robbing a Santa Fe employe, T. L. Conway, in the justice court here last week. His brother, Joseph Stecklein, is serving a 30-day sentence in the San Bernardino County jail, pronounced by Federal Judge Benjamin F. Blodgett, after being found guilty of robbing a mailman on the streets of Needles.

The many local admirers of Charles Ray will have the opportunity of seeing him in what promises to be his masterpiece in the film version of that intensely popular stage play, "The Tailor Made Man," which comes tonight and tomorrow to the Colonial Theatre.

It has been found necessary to add several episodes to the stage play, but the psychology remains the same, and John Paul Bart, the tailor made man, is the same novel and intriguing character on the screen as he is in the play.

Bart, presser of clothes in an ill-smelling basement tailor shop, dresses Fate in an unprecedented manner, and taking a dress suit that has been given him to press, he marches forth to conquer the fashionable and financial world. The story unravels his efforts in a pleasing manner, and Mr. Ray is supported by an exceptionally clever cast, among them being Thomas Ricketts, Victor Patel, Stanton Heck, Edythe Chapman, Kate Lester and others.

Viola Dana's latest picture, "There are no Villains," is an entertaining story of love, secret service agents and opium smugglers, which will start at the Colonial Theatre next Sunday night.

It is a story of an attempt by Uncle Sam's sleuths to capture a daring band of opium smugglers through the medium of a female detective, who becomes stenographer to the man assigned to be indicted with the gang. Love steps in and spoils all the carefully laid plans. The picture gives some interesting glimpses of that part of San Francisco known as the "Badger Coast" district and Miss Dana is excellent in her role of secret service agent.

Others in the cast are Gaston Cline, Edward Cecil, De Witt Jennings, Fred Kelsey and Jack Cosgroves.

JOHNSTON COMES TO RED HILL CLUB

Saturday's feature at the Red Hill Country Club will be a competition against par, and judging from the members playing in the competition last Saturday a still greater turnout is expected for tomorrow.

The Greens Committee has just entered into an agreement with Cyrus Johnston, famous as a teacher and clubmaker. He comes here very highly recommended from El Rancho Golf Course, Ambassador Hotel, Los Angeles. The Greens Committee of the Red Hill Country Club hopes that Mr. Johnston will receive the hearty support of the entire membership of the club, for the local club has the foundation for one of the finest courses in Southern California, according to golf enthusiasts who have played over many of this country's golf courses.

Mr. Johnston's work here will be along the line of improving the course and not only building a great local interest, but of getting the course before golf players of Southern California.

Mr. Johnston's ability as an instructor assures those desiring to become proficient in the game of expert assistance in mastering the many details which have proven troublesome to beginners.

Mr. Johnston will be here Saturday afternoon.

FUMIGATION CLOSES IN EAST END OF CO.

Meeting of the deputy horticultural commissioners with J. P. Coy, county commissioner, Wednesday afternoon, was largely consumed with final reports on fumigation work done in the Redlands and Highland districts this summer.

It was reported that with less than a half-dozen exceptions fumigating in this district had closed for the season. The weather has remained warm and work has been finished nearly three weeks earlier than last year.

Fumigating in the west end is still setting well under way and will engage the attention of the horticultural inspectors until after the holidays. Climatic conditions and a different variety of scale to be treated account for the difference in the seasons for treatment.

Plans as to the acreage fumigated this year will not be available until after next month's meeting of the deputy commissioners, it is said.

Some discussion also centered around the weed-eradication campaign which has been waged throughout the county this year.

Mr. Coy stated that he was generally greatly pleased with the results of this year's campaign. "The farmers, assisted by other co-operating agencies, have done better than ever before in cleaning up and clearing out the weeds," said Mr. Coy.

CANYON CABINS TO BE INSPECTED

As a result of a recent ruling of forestry officials, all cabins in San Antonio Canyon and its tributaries must be inspected for defective wiring.

The ruling provides that all cabins in the canyon at present must be inspected and that hereafter the wiring in new cabins must be inspected before the power is turned on.

It is said that there are some very bad cases of defective wiring in the canyon, threatening a serious fire in windy weather.

Flares from short circuits have been seen in the canyon at night, making the sky like lightning flashes.

Inspected Forbidden

An inspector will be furnished by the Ontario Power Company, and where of cabins will be notified of defective wiring. Notices will be served upon them and, if it is not rectified within a given period, electric service will be discontinued.

It was largely through the efforts of Glenn D. Smith, general manager of the Ontario Power Company, and Arthur Shay, forest ranger, that the ruling was passed.

FLOWER SHOP OPENED

BY W. J. MCCLOSKEY

W. J. McCloskey, the Upland florist, will open a flower shop next week in the Redman and Byer building, 216 Second Avenue, where he will have cut flowers, potted plants and ferns on sale.

The nursery on Tenth Avenue will still be continued, but with the increased demand for flowers at a short notice Mr. McCloskey feels that he will be in a better position to supply patrons if he is right in town.

ATTEMPT TO KNOCK OUT INDICTMENTS MADE BY COUNSEL

An attempt to knock out the 38 grand jury indictments charging F. E. Alford, former city manager of Ontario, and John E. Huling, a Los Angeles business man, with defrauding the city out of nearly $30,000, will be made in the superior court on Oct. 10, the time set for the accused swindlers to plead, it was admitted yesterday by Archie D. Mitchell, chief defense counsel.

The defense will file demurrer to the 38 indictments, attacking each count. Attorney Mitchell said. The indictments are weak and do not contain sufficient cause of action to warrant trial before a jury, Alford's attorneys will contend.

Both Alford and Huling were held to answer in the superior court on charges of defrauding the city out of $2800 in an alleged fictitious pipe purchase yesterday by Justice of the Peace Jerome B. Kavanaugh, at the conclusion of a preliminary examination. Attorney J. L. Richards, one of the defense counsels, made a plea for dismissal of the charges, which was denied. This charge was not included in the 38 indictments returned by the grand jury.

Files Surety Bond

An hour later, Alford appeared before Judge J. W. Curtis in the superior court, and was granted permission to file a $50,000 surety bond and have attachments removed which were filed against all of his and Mrs. Alford's property in Ontario by the city in a civil suit to recover nearly $60,000 which the city officials claim Alford obtained fraudulently.

The bond will be filed in the court within a few days, Alford later announced. He said that the property attached, including business blocks, was worth approximately $80,000.

O. S. Roen, present city manager of Ontario, was called to testify at the final session of the preliminary examination. He introduced city records. The defense, it was stipulated, shall have access to the records at all times.

Results of the House Shortage

A WARNING is issued by the United States Chamber of Commerce, against the tendencies which it feels are threatened by the shortage of houses and the cost of building. It says that the result must be a good deal of cheap and shoddy construction, also that families are being herded together in small space and can not live in any desirable manner.

Many houses are being put up now in a cheap way to save expense, that can never last as they should. Even if considerable money is being put into them, they must deteriorate much faster than the old time well built house. People who decide on flimsy construction must figure frequent repairs as a part of the expense, and they must set aside a certain proportion of the original expenses as a sinking fund, in anticipation of the deterioration of the dwelling.

After they have made these allowances, they will probably find that a poorly built dwelling is the most expensive in the long run. People who put up houses should take the advice of competent builders and not use material and methods that will prove costly eventually. Many families under present conditions are living in three or four rooms or less, which rooms often are very tiny. Yet of course under present costs many families can afford no more space than that. It is not desirable for anybody to go into debt for more ample quarters, but the many who are forced to live in small space, should take pains to avert the evils of congested living.

Poor ventilation is probably the worst danger of such crowding. People living in this way should accustom themselves to having windows open both during summer and winter. If they are chilly, they should wear more clothing and exercise freely. They will find that well ventilated rooms are easier to keep warm. People will not need so much heat if they become used to fresh air and exercise.

The Richardson Pledge

FRIEND WILLIAM RICHARDSON, the man with the Quaker name and ancestry, and the Quaker honesty and directness as well, has declared that he will make his campaign for governor on his original pledge of economy in state expenditures and of destruction of machine politics. No other declaration would be expected from him by anyone who knows the man. Whatever else might be said of Richardson, he is not one thing today and another tomorrow. When he sets his hand to the plow he drives the furrow straight to the end of the field.

The most fantastic thing in the campaign is that air of pained surprise with which the San Francisco newspapers affect to regard Richardson, as if to say, "Who is this man, and where does he come from?" The Examiner with truly laughable ingenuity now discovers that he was nominated by the negro vote! The Examiner cannot comprehend that there is a great body of public opinion in this state that swears by just that type of every-day rugged honesty which Richardson represents. Nor is the Republican nominee any stranger to this substantial element, whatever he may be to the unclean press. For a quarter of a century Richardson has been a kingpin among the country newspaper editors of California. His field has been those cities of culture and enterprise, Berkeley and San Bernardino, where he grew up with the true spirit of California in a way not possible in the polluted air of the great cities. The air is clean and pure out in the open spaces of California, and there Richardson thrived.

Richardson's Message to Garcia was carried to the people by his friends of the country press. He got precious little recognition from the metropolitan newspapers. The country editors and not the negro vote nominated him. His platform was the Quaker one of honesty and efficiency. He is of the stock of William Penn.

One of the foolish delusions of the city newspaper man is the old idea that the country editor divides his time between taking turnips for subscriptions and picking hayseed out of his hair. In the days when Hostetter's Almanac was the only farm library those pleasures were current in the joke books, but now the farmer has his radio set and his auto motive machinery, which he repairs himself, and the country editor has a linotype in his composing room, and adding machine in his office, and, best of all—brains in his head.—San Francisco Journal.

The Kansas Idea

THE Board of Education at Wichita, Kansas, has laid out a school farm of thirty acres in the heart of the city.

These thirty acres are a part of a seventy-acre lot on which the Board of Education is building a number of school buildings both for agriculture and for general education.

It will be an impressive sight. On that farm the school committee will of course undertake to teach the boys and girls who wish to make agriculture their occupation. The idea is also to teach other children something about farming so that they too shall be able to use spare land to grow things.

Encouraging Food Production

A BIG advance movement was made when the old time cattle shows were made the opportunity for spreading ideas of scientific food production. Formerly agricultural colleges were considered theoretical affairs by the farmers, and the advice of spectacled professors was looked upon with some contempt.

Then the "aggie" colleges began to set up tents at cattle shows and would show one pile of ears of corn grown with scientific treatment, and one pile without. Even the most hard shelled farmer could see the difference with those shrewd old eyes of his. He began to prick up his ears and slide into the tent where these despised professors were lecturing. Thus ideas of better farming have spread until the country gets such results as the bumper crops of 1922.

From Simplicity to Splendor

IN SALT LAKE CITY in October there will be an exposition in which the Rocky Mountain States will join. One of the leading displays will be an archway of jewels. To make it up, 15,000 novagems will be used.

This magnificent curtain will stretch on four steel poles, 44 feet above the ground, and its brilliance will be enhanced at night by the illumination of artfully placed searchlights.

Whatever one's view of Mormonism—and Mormonism is not today the freakish practice that once it was—the firm faith, the tenacity, the courage and the strength displayed by the pioneers of Idaho and Utah cannot but draw forth admiration.

From the simplicity of the prairie schooner to an archway of 15,000 gems! Such is Utah in two generations. Such is the spirit of America.

Our Collegiate Iceman

AMERICAN colleges prepared for the greatest year in their history. In almost every state of the union in the enrollment figures showed marked advances and records broken.

Yale, Princeton, Wellesley, Union, Pennsylvania, Vassar and Dartmouth reached the pinnacle of their prosperity. It is also true of many western colleges.

Fact is that this prosperity for colleges is due largely to the change in the viewpoint of our educational institutions. Many cobwebs have been swept away.

Today the college means more than the accepted understanding of academic teaching. It means a broader vision of life and a greater understanding of the necessity for the thing worth while.

The college man today is to be found everywhere. He is at the head of a great banking institution, he is a chauffeur, he drives an ice wagon, he tills the soil, he appears in literature and ornaments the plumbing establishment.

Sometimes the unthinking criticize the college because its graduates may be found driving a milk wagon and the like. The answer, of course, is that if all milk wagon drivers were college men milk would be delivered more orderly and even our babyhood would be helped.

The greatness of the college does not lie in its being the gangway down which one may walk to the professions. Its worth is in giving to the country men who can thoroughly perform the duty of the hour.

The college is not the panacea for empty skulls. The best it can do is to equip the man who has something under his hat.—Chino Champion.

Settling Problems of Great Weight

EIGHTY women gathered at the home of Mrs. H. O. Havemeyer in New York the other day to discuss the grievances of their sex. Mrs. Havemeyer, being hostess, was the first speaker and settled one of the grievances. It was the burning question of housing a mixed jury when the case goes over for a night.

"Just run a Pullman car up to where the detained jurors are," said the lady, "and let them occupy that for the night. That's perfectly proper and comfortable."

It is a magnificent solution. The male jurors, being gentlemen, will occupy the upper berths.

At the Cucamonga School (Southside) under the new system now in force, there will be a luncheonette, where the children who so desire may buy very reasonably sandwiches

Mr. and Mrs. Bryan were presented with a handsome set of salad forks by the guests assembled, another delightful surprise. The guests enjoying the evening at the de Berard home numbered about thirty, being members of the hostess' Embroidery Club and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Bryan's, as well as members of the family.

Sailing majestically through the sunset sky Saturday evening, the U. S. Army No. 2-C dirigible, on its transcontinental trip from Virginia to California's Arcadia Field, passed over our heads like a gigantic bird of passage. Its approach from the east being heralded by a hum, then a roar, as the huge gas-bag, gleaming like gold in the rays of the setting sun, dipped up and down like a ship at sea. Apparently following the Santa Fe tracks as a guide in the fast-nearing twilight, she soared over the Golden State Cannery buildings, flying so low that it seemed she would surely top the tall eucalyptus trees. With flags flying, red lights glowing, the aviators plainly visible from below, the great airship presented a grand sight not soon forgotten as she vanished into the Golden West.

Madam Welch and Mrs. Daugherty, of Los Angeles, are having constructed for their use a pretty home, being a modern two-story dwelling, and located among the trees within companionable distance to the north-east of the beautiful ranch home of this daughter, Mrs. R. M. Welch, of Base Line, Alta Loma.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Williams are being welcomed back to Cucamonga, their former home, having sold their Ontario home in Sierra Court. Rev. E. E. Sedweek, former pastor of the Cucamonga Methodist Church, was calling on local townspeople here recently, who were grieved to hear of the loss of the little grandson, Robert Evans, Jr., the child's death occurring after an attack of diphtheria, about two weeks ago at his home in Los Angeles. The little fellow had made several visits to Cucamonga when his mother, Mrs. Robert Evans, visited her parents, Rev. and Mrs. Sedweek, during their pastorate here, and who had won many hearts by his winsome ways and sweet disposition. He is survived by a wee sister. The bereaved parents and grandparents have the deep sympathy of many friends here.

Judge W. C. Belden had a narrow escape from serious injury when his trusty Overland disputed the right-of-way with a Franklin touring-car late Monday afternoon at the corner of Hellman and State Highway. As Mr. Belden turned on to the Highway from Hellman, the Franklin, coming from the east at a rapid clip, was not able to stay in time to prevent a collision. Both cars were considerably damaged, the Franklin losing two wheels and the Belden car receiving a bent axle and other injuries. Luckily the drivers escaped injury, beyond bruises and the shock of the crash.

Miss Margaret Hawker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Hawker, of Church Street, who so narrowly escaped with her life in the tragic accident of Saturday evening last, is reported recovering from the shock and what was at first thought to be a seriously injured foot. She was able, however, with the aid of an invalid chair, to be present at the coroner's inquest Monday afternoon, where she related her part in the sad event. Judge H. H. Thomas, of the Orange County Superior Court, well-known here, and brother of H. H. and L. R. Thomas, was present at the inquest and was active in questioning the various witnesses.

The final test

The real value of a motor lubricant can be determined in only one way—through its use in the engine for which it is intended.

Hence this company maintains an engine-testing laboratory, equipped with a Sprague dynamometer, in which Zerolene and other lubricants are constantly being tested under actual operating conditions.

This dynamometer laboratory is in charge of competent trained men, who spend all their time in conducting comparative tests of Zerolene and other lubricants in automobile, airplane, marine, truck and tractor engines.

Correct Lubrication Recommendations

On the results of these tests, supplemented by equally careful tests in the field and on the road, our Board of Lubrication Engineers bases its Chart of Recommendations.

Close attention is given to the design and construction of the engine. It is necessary to know, first, the speed of the bearing surfaces; second, clearance between bearing surfaces; third, temperatures at which bearings operate; fourth, pressures exerted in each bearing; fifth, the means provided for the distribution of the oil to each bearing.

The recommendations embodied in the Zerolene Chart are calculated with the greatest precision, and if Zerolene is used in accordance with them, correct lubrication and maximum fuel mileage are assured.

P. T. A. HOLDS FIRST MEETING OF YEAR—

With school activities in full swing, all clubs and societies in connection have also started, and last Tuesday saw the first meeting of the year of the 18th Street School Parent-Teachers Association held in the school building, with an attendance of sixteen members.

Mrs. W. J. McCloskey spoke of the exhibition to be held at the Tenth Street School on Saturday, October 21st, and urged all mothers who were interested in the schools of Upland to help with the work of the exhibit on that day.

Owing to ill-health, Mrs. William Gladwin, president of the 18th Street association, and Mrs. Paul Bodenhamer, vice-president, felt obliged to resign their offices. Mrs. William Mason was elected president and Mrs. W. T. Schaeffner vice-president. Mrs. E. J. McAlroy was chosen secretary last year and continues in the position.

Punch and wafers were served after the business session and an enjoyable time was spent in making the acquaintance of the two new teachers, Miss Klopstein and Mrs. Koutz, and the new mothers present at this initial meeting.

Meetings will be held at 18th Street school the fourth Tuesday in every month, the next one to be October 24th.

GIRL SCOUT LEADERS TO MEET NEXT MONDAY—

The first meeting of the captains and lieutenants of the Girl Scouts of the Chaffey district after the summer holidays will be held at Chaffey next Monday afternoon at 4:30. There will be a picnic supper later, and all those intending to go are asked to see Mrs. William Laidlaw, or phone her at 261-J, Ontario, in order that she may make sufficient accommodation.

Miss Ora Mabon, who has spent the summer abroad, will tell of her interesting travels, and Miss Clara Bissell has promised to talk on the work she has been doing in Turkey among girls of scout age. Both speeches will be full of interest, and everyone is urged to be present. Plans for the winter will also be discussed.

Mrs. Laidlaw is asking most earnestly for leaders in this work and will be glad to see or hear from anyone who feels she has the time to devote to helping the scout work on. Several more troops could be organized, the girls are anxious to join, but there must be those who will take the captaincy, and as soon as leaders can be found, more troops will be organized.

ORANGE DRIVE CIRCLE ENTERTAINED THURSDAY—

Mrs. W. T. Schaeffner was hostess to members of the Orange Drive Circle of the Ladies' Aid of the Methodist Church yesterday afternoon, when they met at her home on West 18th Street for the first meeting after the summer vacation. Following the business session, at which new officers for the year were elected, Mrs. James Gillingwater, president, and Mrs. C. Lambert, secretary and treasurer, a delightful social hour was spent, needlework and merry conversation serving as diversions. Delicious refreshments of ice cream and cake were served by the hostess to the following guests, Mrs. C. S. Kelley, Mrs. F. C. Buffington, Mrs. Oscar Gaither, Mrs. James Shaw, Miss Gladys Shaw, Mrs. L. E. Moser, Mrs. E. C. Rosenberger and baby, Mrs. D. J. Cameron, Mrs. E. J. McAlroy, Mrs. Charles L. Dinger, Miss Maude Dinger, Mrs. Gillingwater, and Mrs. Lambert.

ST. MARK'S GUILD MEETS MONDAY WITH MRS. EVERETTS—

Women of St. Mark's Guild will begin their winter work at the first meeting after the long vacation, which will be held on Monday, Oct. 2nd, at the home of Mrs. H. C. Everetts, on Second Avenue. The president, Mrs. Duncan Crooks, announces that plans are ready for a busy year, and that unusual activities will characterize the Guild meetings during the winter. The executive board is in session this afternoon and several ideas will be discussed and outlined to be presented to the members on Monday.

PRESBYTERIAN LADIES TO MEET TUESDAY—

The fall meeting of the Ladies' Aid of the Presbyterian Church will be held in the church parlors on Tuesday, October 3rd, at 2:30. It is hoped that Miss Clara Bissell will be able to be present and tell something about her interesting experiences and work in Turkey.

As this is the first meeting of the year, a goodly number of members are expected to be present. Those who will pour tea are: Mrs. Roy Wisely, Mrs. Mary Wilson, Mrs. V. H. Wilson, Mrs. H. O. Blohm.

WOLD FLOWER STUDY CLASS TO BEGIN NEXT MONDAY—

A class will be opened next Monday evening at 7:30 at the Tenth Street School for the benefit of those who wish to study the wild flowers of California this winter and take botany. Mr. Stanford, of Chaffey faculty, will teach those who wish to join, and the first part of the evening will be devoted to learning the names of the common flowers of the hills and valleys. Those who want to go deeper into the subject may take up the study of botany under Mr. Stanford.

This class comes under the Chaffey free night school heading, but there must be at least ten people who wish to join before the work can be thoroughly taken up. Everyone interested in flowers is asked to be present at the initial meeting on Monday, October 2nd, and help form the class.

ONTARIO

Break Up "Friendly Game"
Arrest on gambling charges yesterday of ten Ontarians, including several well-known business men, following a raid by Ontario officers on a residence, the location of which is being concealed by the police, caused considerable of a stir here last evening.

Seven of the men arrested were booked on charges of gambling and were charged with visiting a place where gambling was being conducted. The officers, headed by Lieut. Arthur Axley, are said to have caught the offenders red-handed.

One of the men charged with gambling is quoted as saying that they were merely having a little "friendly game" with no high stakes, and that he felt the officers might better turn their attention to some "real" games, of which he declared there were plenty in Ontario.

Booked on charges of gambling were E. D. Lerch, E. A. Ellis, Cleo Fuller, R. A. Mingo, George Speesman, C. D. Bradshaw and Guy Bybee, while Philip Fillius, L. A. Nelson and E. Riggs were charged with visiting a gambling place.

Lerch, Nelson, Fillius and Ellis all entered pleas of guilty when they appeared before Judge George R. Holbrook and paid $10 fines. Other members of the alleged poker party have not yet appeared for hearing.

Humphries' Home Looted
Charles P. Humphries, well-known pioneer rancher, yesterday reported to the Ontario police that during the temporary absence of his family Tuesday afternoon his ranch home at Bon View Avenue and State Street was broken into and a quantity of valuable jewelry and clothing taken.

The loot included a lady's diamond ring, a ruby ring, several gold class and fraternity pins belonging to Miss Grace Humphries, a pair of gold cuff links, shirts, coats, trousers and hats.

Entrance was gained by punching a hole in a window screen and unhooking the same.

The Humphries home was burglarized in similar fashion about a year ago, when members of the family were absent on a trip to Honolulu.

Shooting Affair
Florence Ortiz, age 38, was lodged in the Ontario city jail Tuesday afternoon on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon with intent to commit murder, after he had shot Raymond Moreno, age 20, in the back as the result of a row in the Cucamonga district.

Owen A. Gray, of East Eighth Street, was taken to the state asylum at Patton on Tuesday, his mental condition being such that friends advised Mrs. Gray to have him under constant medical care. Mr. Gray has lived here for eleven years and has made many friends, who are grieved to find that the paralysis which has been gradually creeping over him has finally affected his brain. He is receiving the best of care at Patton, and while his condition is very serious, it is earnestly hoped that a cure may be effected.

ETIWANDA

Mr. J. C. Jones is installing a radiophone in his home on Victoria Avenue this week. It has been in the settlement for some time awaiting the return of the Jones family from their summer home, benefitting Miss Leone Jacobson in the meantime, having been generously loaned by Mr. Jones for the invalid's entertainment.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Price and daughter, Janellyn, went to Alamitos Bay last week and are stopping at the summer home of Rev. and Mrs. Greenlee. On Sunday Mrs. Mamie Cour joined Mrs. Price and will be gone a week. Dorothy Cour is staying with the O. H. Price family while her mother is away.

Mr. John Kelly, who lived in Etiwanda several months while employed here by the Pacific Electric Railway, stopped off Sunday to see friends when returning to Los Angeles from a vacation at the P. E.

employee's camp near Arrowhead Lake. His father and mother have come from the East on his recommendation to make a permanent home in California, his father resigning a position he had held for forty consecutive years.

Friends of Mrs. Theodore Suhr are sorry to learn that she has not been in her usual health recently. Her trouble is of a dropsical nature and causes her extreme discomfort. The annual women's dinner will be given at the Etiwanda church on Thursday, October 5, at one o'clock, by members of the Missionary Committee of the Ladies' Aid Society.

No charge is made for the meal, but a silver offering made at the door, either before or after the meal, is used to pay off the regular pledges to Missions, both Home and Foreign. Every woman in the settlement is cordially invited to come and have dinner and to remain for the interesting program which is always a part of the entertainment. An unusually good meal is always served and the menu decided upon by this year's committee listens well over the telephone. The chief address of the afternoon will be given by Vincent Hummison, who has just returned from Smyrna, Turkey.

Mrs. A. E. Rhoades and son, Charles, of Stillwater, Minnesota, who are touring Southern California at present, spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Donnelly to visit their cousin, Mrs. Lou Dooley, who arrived Thursday night from Illinois.

Mr. Thomas Donnelly is justly proud of a handsome oil painting that he has just received by express from the East. The painting, which was done by an artist past his eightieth year, is chiefly ducks, but the background of water and a sky at sunrise make a picture that anyone not as interested in ducks as Judge Donnelly would stop to admire.

Mrs. F. E. Rader has received two more paintings by Sidney Lawrence, the well-known Alaskan artist. One evening last week she showed the pictures to a few friends, who later were entertained at cards. They were: Mesdames George Frost, George Utman, O. H. Price, M. R. Kemp, J. C. Jones and John Frost. Mrs. Rader's collection with that of Mrs. Jack McCord of Long Beach, is soon to be exhibited for a week in the art rooms of the Long Beach Public Library.

Principal Rena B. Francis reports a school attendance of 85 for the first week of the year. This means that there will be well over 100 a little later when the foreign population is roused up to the fact that school has begun and that the children will be required to attend. An average of over 100 pupils for the entire year would give the district money for a fourth teacher. Mr. James Spence is doing the hauling of those children who are too far out to walk to school.

Iola Brinderson is making her home with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Spray, for the school year, and has entered the fifth grade here. Mrs. Opal Brinderson and younger daughter are staying in Brawley at present with Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Spafford.

Mrs. Elmira Coons, who makes her home for the most of the time with her daughter, Mrs. George Hippard, left Saturday morning for Michigan to spend the winter with her son and his family. Mrs. Coons was fortunate in having as a traveling companion as far as Chicago a very pleasant friend who was returning East from a visit in Los Angeles.

Mrs. A. C. Smith and children spent Saturday at Long Beach visiting Mrs. Sarah P. Majors and daughter, Mrs. Jack McCord. Mrs. F. E. Rader spent the afternoon with the party and returned to Etiwanda that evening after having spent a few days in Los Angeles. Bruce Rader remained in the city until Sunday afternoon.

On next Sunday morning the Etiwanda Church School will observe "Rally Day," and ask that all pupils make an extra effort to be present. The third year primary department class will be promoted into the intermediate department with appropriate exercises.

On Saturday afternoon at three the superintendent of the Church School, Mrs. John Scott, wishes every primary department scholar to be present at the church if possible for a party to be given in honor of the class that is graduating.

The Friendly Class announces the yet-together supper of Monday evening next is for all who would like to go and have a pleasant evening. An effort will be made by class members to invite all who do not attend regularly to make this a "rally" supper. For the benefit of any who do not know the habits of the Friendly Class we will state that the meal is served between six and six-thirty and each family is expected to provide sandwiches and some substantial dish. Coffee or iced tea is made at the church and served to all. The church finance committee will get together for a business meeting directly after the supper Monday evening and make an effort to finish up the business of the year before the annual meeting, which comes early in December.

Rev. C. W. Greenlee is planning to take Mrs. Clara Tilden and her interesting class of boys to Venice for the day Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Stevens and children are leaving today for Brawley after a three-weeks' vacation. They spent a week at the beach with Mrs. Elizabeth Stevens and family and later went to Bishop with Mrs. Stevens' parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Pearson. They are returning to Brawley to start their children to school.

Mr. George F. Johnston, who has been shipping grapes from his large holdings at El Cajon, completed table grape shipments this week and will soon conclude his season's business there and return to Etiwanda. His son, Mr. Spencer Johnston, has been in charge of the Etiwanda shipments.

The railroads have been a little more liberal with cars for the past week and packers here are working while the weather holds so good for shipping, and hope to begin to see their way through soon now. Aside from the few days of extreme heat the season has been very good as far as weather conditions are concerned.

Agent W. O. Frost, of the Pacific Electric road, is finding it too strenuous a life to try to live in Upland and keep the station here open at all hours for the convenience of the grape men. He has succeeded in renting the cottage on the Dr. A. L. Shepherd ranch and will move over from Upland the first of October.

Misses Helen and Margaret Best, Chaffey friends of Miss Evelyn Koch, were her guests Friday and Saturday.

Mr. E. G. Rader left Friday for Berkeley, where he will visit his daughter, Mrs. Harvey Brubaker.

MONSTER MARDI GRAS AT LONG BEACH

Details of the Mardi Gras festival which will be held in Long Beach from Oct. 2nd to 7th, have been announced by Chas. S. Henderson, Director-General. The electric parade at 7:30 on Oct. 2nd will officially open the big event.

The amusement zone is planning the largest fun-making celebration ever attempted. Every day there will be special attractions, such as fashion revues, free shows, contests, etc. Southern California industries will also have exhibits. The Queen's contest has been opened, scores of entries have already been received from the Southland. Beautiful prizes will be given the Queen and her court. She will be entertained at the Hotel Virginia on the opening night and a ball will be given in her honor at the Majestic Dance Hall.

Belden entertained in honor of their son and his bride, Mr. and Mrs. William Samuel Belden, nee Mary Stuart Fox, of Los Angeles. Lovely marigolds and golden-rod carried out the autumnal color note throughout the spacious living-rooms. Receiving with the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Belden and the honorees, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Belden, were the bride's mother, Mrs. Alvin Stuart Fox, and grandmother, Mrs. J. Thomas, of San Dimas, and Miss Marian Belden. Best wishes and congratulations were showered upon the newly-wedded pair, who also were the recipients of a number of pretty and useful gifts. At the conclusion of an informal social evening, dainty refreshments were served, the hostess being assisted by her daughter, Miss Marian, Misses Harriet Wikoff, Wava Hively, Helen Keyes, and several others.

Tragedy Follows Auto Collision

A pall of gloom has been cast over the entire community by the terrible tragedy of Saturday night at the Archibald Avenue crossing of the Salt Lake tracks, when the auto stalling in face of the on-rushing freight train, the light of two young lives was snuffed out like a candle, and sorrow overwhelming entered the homes of their loved ones. In the great loss of their only and idolized daughter, Gladys, Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Thomas, and the family of H. H. Thomas have the heartfelt sympathy of everyone in this hour of great bereavement.

Awaiting the arrival of relatives from the east, the last sad rites for Miss Thomas were not held until this afternoon, Friday, at three o'clock, in the chapel of the Cucamonga Methodist Church, where she has always been such a faithful and earnest member and worker in the Epworth League, where she was organist, as well as president and leader of the J. O. C. girls' organization. Talented and clever, always sweet and lovable, she made many warm friends who will feel deeply her untimely passing.

The services will be in charge of J. B. Draper, with the pastor of the church, Rev. H. C. Mullen, officiating.

MARVELOUS GROWTH OF SHOE STORE IS AMAZING

Developing in seven years from a small, one-store business, located in Long Beach, to a large chain of stores located in eleven of Southern California's choicest cities, the Kafateria Shoe Company has made a record at which the shoe industry marvels and which is a great credit to the business genius of Mr. Sidney Glass, manager and heaviest shareholder in this progressive company.

"There is a reason for such an unusual growth," says E. M. Craig, manager of the Ontario branch. "When one stops and considers the hundreds and hundreds of shoe stores that have come and gone in the past decade, serving the same territory as the Kafateria system, it does seem phenomenal that during our these hard times that we should have kept right on growing."

"The reason for our success is plain and simple. Ever since we have been in business, our motto has been: 'Treat the public right, and give them for value received the biggest dollar's worth possible.' Added to this the fact that any shoes purchased at our stores are sold to give absolute satisfaction, and if they are not satisfactory, the purchaser may return them. Another thing worthy of note is the fact that the highest priced shoe we carry sells for only $4.85."

"To some people our name seems to imply that our store may be of the 'Serve Yourself' type. Let me take this opportunity to allay any fear that might exist in that line in the minds of any of your readers. We have always made it a practice to employ the best fitters that money can secure, and on Saturdays especially we have seven fitters on duty all day. This insures prompt and courteous service, and does away with any but a minimum amount of waiting."

CROP INSURANCE

Something of definite good may come from the passage of House Resolution 54 by Congress, providing for the appointment of a commission of eight to consider the feasibility of crop insurance. This has been a thing that the citrus grower has been interested in for a term of years, but up to this time nothing tangible has come of it. It is known that several companies are gathering statistics as an aid in determining what rate would have to be charged to protect the industry from the loss consequent upon the periodical cold snaps.

Under Resolution 54 a federal system of crop insurance is contemplated covering all agricultural products. Whether that can ever be accomplished is somewhat of a question, but a form of insurance covering citrus fruits is pretty sure to come out of all the agitation. The grower may form a co-operative compact, if no other channel opens, to underwrite his losses. The plan has certainly worked out well in the case of protection against fire and there are men connected with the citrus industry capable of collecting data based on past experience which would form a basis for a living rate.

Some good should come out of the last freeze, but the great danger is that as time goes on, the grower may be lulled into a feeling of security which will deaden the acute recognition of the necessity for protecting himself from another possibly greater disaster.

The seven-year itch has broken out in one Russian town. They are looking forward to 1929.

One of the main troubles is that the whole world seems to be trying to find a substitute for work.

New Factory Assured

Actual construction work within 60 days on another new factory for Ontario, which at the outset will give employment to not less than 125 men, was declared an assured fact yesterday by T. W. Anderson, sales manager for the National Phonograph and Motor Company.

Mr. Anderson declared that arrangements have been completed by Harry J. Keeley, president of the company and inventor of the phonograph motor which it is proposed to manufacture, for a 99-year lease on property, adjoining the Union Pacific right-of-way here, and that ground for the first unit of the factory, which is expected to employ more than 1000 men eventually, will be broken within 60 days.

According to Mr. Anderson, the company is fully organized and the establishment of the factory in Ontario is in no way dependent upon the sale of stock here. Ontario was chosen for the factory, it is said, on account of the possibility of securing a site at a reasonable figure, because of the low cost of electric power, on account of the city's exceptional transportation facilities and because of excellent labor conditions.

Other officers of the company include George A. Long, vice-president, and Charles H. Wild, secretary.

Talks to Realtors

Glenn D. Willman, secretary and managing director of the California Real Estate Association, with headquarters in Los Angeles, was the speaker before members of the Realty Board Tuesday afternoon in special luncheon meeting at Oma Tea Garden. Mr. Willman spoke chiefly on the proposed amendments to the state constitution to be voted on in November, particularly urging this hearers to take a stand solidly against the proposed water and power act.

Some twenty members of the Realty Board attended the meeting and Charles Frankish, president of the organization, occupied the chair.

Exposition Plans

Members of the Ontario Business Men's Association are busy this week with plans for the Industrial Exposition to be staged here October, 26 to 28, inclusive.

Arrangements have been completed for closing the west driveway of Euclid Ave., in the business district during the affair and sufficient booths and automobile space have already been applied for to assure the success of the exhibit.

R. D. Newton, general chairman of the exposition committee, announced today the completion of arrangements for the erection of a new tent on the west drive between the Frankish building and the Chamber of Commerce stretching from curb to curb. This will be used for housing the automobile exhibit and the space is rapidly being allotted to local dealers. The tent will be especially lighted for display purposes.

Charles L. Tuttle, chairman of that committee, announced today that some high class talent has been secured for the entertainment end of the exposition and Arthur Peterson is now busy with plans for Hawaiian and Eskimo villages between A and C streets.

Members of the Ontario Fire Department are to take an active part in the big event and some surprises are promised by them. The Exposition is expected to attract thousands of visitors to Ontario and every effort is being made to provide them with the highest class entertainment obtainable and with every comfort.

Plans for Survey

With the city grammar schools now well launched on their fall term, Miss Kathleen Leahy, newly-appointed school nurse, is busy getting her department into shape and is preparing for a general survey of all pupils at an early date.

This proposed survey or inspection will deal only with the general condition of the children. Measurements will be made and weights taken in an effort to determine whether or not the pupils examined are receiving the proper nutrition and where lacks are found in this regard, steps will be taken to correct conditions. Miss Leahy comes to take up the work in the Ontario Schools with high recommendations. During the war, she saw Red Cross nursing service. She has also had a thorough hospital training, general nursing and social service work in San Francisco.

The routine of the school nurse calls for visits during the morning hours to the five grammar schools of the city, while the afternoons are chiefly devoted to social service work in the Latin quarter, using the Sultana avenue school as the center for these activities. Miss Leahy also has plans for assisting with the organization of a Parent-Teacher Association among the Mexicans.

Miss Leahy's work is directly under the supervision of the city board of education of which J. R. Armstrong is head, but she is receiving the fullest co-operation of the city board of health and of Dr. S. P. S. Edwards, city health officer.

Sewer Extensions

Extensive additions to the city sewer system were seen today in the efforts of residents of various sections of Ontario to bring about the formation of new sewer districts for connection with the municipal system.

According to City Service Manager O. S. Roen, it is probable that a resolution of intention will be adopted by the city council at its next regular meeting for the formation of a sewer district, covering blocks 112 and 115 at the southwest corner of State street and Sultana avenue, following the receipt of a petition asking the same from property owners of that section.

Work is soon to be under way on the construction of a sewer system in the Granada Court tract. There the property owners were able to advance the money for the construction work, which will be done by private contract under the city

Efforts are now being made to form a new sewer district between G and Fourth streets west of Euclid avenue. A sewer system in that vicinity is virtually demanded by the erection of the new Junior High or Intermediate school, now in course of construction, and it is expected that steps toward the formation of a sewer district will be taken by the council at an early date.

Cleopatra enjoyed the show very much but September Morn became very jealous of certain members of the chorus, who in style of dress everything looked just about
